

Managing Student Behaviour

Practical techniques to promote positive behaviour for individuals and groups with a focus on engagement, containment and consequences.

Jenny Mackay is a classroom management and student discipline skills specialist with a very practical ‘in the classroom’ approach to skills training. Her focus is on the acquisition of practical and useful behaviour management skills and on building collaborative student – teacher relationships. The skills are learned and applied using a simple structured framework that will guide the teacher in their everyday behaviour management interactions.

Her extensive teaching experience is throughout K – 12 as well as in tertiary education. She founded her international consultancy BME, Behaviour Management in Education, in 1995 and has established BME consultancies in Australia, the United Kingdom and South Africa.

Jenny conducts professional development workshops throughout Australia as well as Internationally. Her new book "Coat of Many Pockets - Managing classroom interactions," is published by ACER, the Australian Council for Education Research. (Available via her website at www.behaviour.com.au)

Jenny shares her time between her consultancy, writing, and lecturing part time in the Department of Education at Deakin University in Melbourne.

All participants will receive a copy of Jenny Mackay’s book ‘The Coat of Many Pockets -

Managing Classroom Interactions’ included in the cost of the seminar!

COAT OF MANY POCKETS: Managing classroom interactions by Jenny Mackay, ACER Press, out now! The book is intended for beginning and returning teachers as well as educators wanting to enhance their behaviour management skills. Based on a synthesis of major behaviour management thinkers, the book incorporates the practical skills, techniques and insights for managing individuals and groups in the classroom plus a unique and simple implementation process.
